Mode of recovery of temporary advances drawn form -- and subsequently disallowed as being irregular.

GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY.

Political and Services Department.

Circular No. 1575/34.

Bombay Castle, 24th November 1950.

CIRCULAR OF GOVERNMENT.

According to rule 15 (5) of the Bombay General Provident Fund Rules and rule 12 (5) of the Contributory Provident Fund Rules (Bombay), a temporary advance from the Provident Fund drawn by a subscriber which is subsequently disallowed is to be recovered by deduction from the emoluments of the subscriber by instalments or otherwise. The general practice followed when such an advance is disallowed is to recover the amount in lump sum or in such number of instalments as the competent authority determines, there being no definite rule regarding the number of instalments in which it should be recovered. Government is now pleased to direct that the recovery of such an advance should be made in lump sum or if the competent authority so directs in instalments not exceeding 12.

2. Necessary amendments to the Bombay General Provident Fund Rules and the Contributory Provident Fund Rules (Bombay) will be sanctioned in due course.
